

BELIEVE TARIFF BILL TO PASS PROBE OF SEA DISASTER IS STARTED

FEDERAL OFFICER MAKES CHARGES IN BOSTON DISASTER

DEATH LIST INCREASED TO FORTY-FIVE; PROBE STARTED ED THURSDAY

BOSTON, June 12.—(P)—Captain Archibald Brooks of the liner Fairfax testified at the federal investigation here today that the sea disaster which overtook his ship and the Fall River tanker Pinthis Tuesday night was over so quickly that any SOS calls could not have brought help quickly enough to cut down the loss of life. The crash took the lives of 46 persons.

Captain Brooks insisted, however, that he had ordered a general SOS sent out immediately after the collision and that the operator tried to send the distress signal until he found his instrument had been made useless by the flames which swept the Fairfax from the exploding oil tank.

In reply to questioning by Captain Charles M. Lyons, federal steamboat inspector, the veteran captain said that all which could have been done was done. He and the first officer, James Hunley, both said that as soon as the tanker was sighted just ahead in the fog the helm was swung hard to port and full speed astern ordered.

Captain Brooks said the fire aboard the Fairfax was brought under control in less than 20 minutes.

Others who remained in the finals were: Tom Adams, Sunbeam High school, Dallas; Ted Hilgen, Sherman; Joe Lefkofsky, Corpus Christi, and Eugene Ennis, Mexia.

AUSTIN, June 11.—(P)—The field of candidates seeking the honor of representing Texas in the national Thomas A. Edison scholarship contest narrowed down to six this morning with the scholarship committee expecting to complete its work today. The six high school graduates were chosen from 54 contestants who yesterday took the scholarship examination.

The scholarship committee worked late last night grading the papers of the entrants and announced this morning that selection of the Texas entry would be made from one of six candidates. They declined to divulge the names of the six remaining in the contest.

Although 81 were originally scheduled to take the tests, only 54 appeared. The winner of the Texas contest will participate in a national competition with students of 47 other states at Molo Park, N. J. later in the summer for a first class university of technological institute and other emoluments.

PORT ARTHUR, June 12.—(P)—One man was dead, 35 were injured, eleven seriously, and damage estimated at more than a million dollars had been caused today as a result of an explosion and fire at the refinery of the Texas company here.

Her companion, B. W. Cannon, 30, Ponca City, Okla., pleaded guilty and received a 21-2 year sentence. They admitted forging checks in several states, but the girl elected to stand trial.

WALKS INTO COMMITTEE MEETING AS ABRUPTLY AS HE LEFT LAST WEEK

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(P)—Walking in on the senate lobby committee as abruptly as he walked out on it last week, Bishop J. M. Cannon, Jr., answered questions today on activities of the Southern Methodist church but persisted in his refusal to undergo examination on his 1928 anti-Smith campaigning.

The churchman surprised the committee meeting which had been called to determine what to do about his defiance. The investigators decided to give him a chance to testify and to consider their future course only after learning his attitude.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, brought up the matter of anti-Smith funds obtained by Cannon from E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist, but the witness referred again and again to his objections to answering questions on his political work.

EXECUTION SQUADS TRAMPLE RED TAPE IN KILLER SEARCH

MARTIAL LAW SUGGESTED RID CITY OF GANGSTERS; LEGION VOLUNTEERS

CHICAGO, June 12.—(P)—Gangland's head men, the big shots listed by the crime commission as "public enemies," remained at large today while 640 minor hoodlums and racketeers fell into the overnight police search for the assassin of Alfred "Jake" Lingle, Chicago Tribune crime reporter.

None of those listed in the "who's hoodlum" was arrested, and either the gang leaders were keeping quiet or the picket detectives had no time to search them or they were leaving the city.

It was learned that airlines were carrying capacity loads with some extra planes pressed into use, but there was no evidence that the surplus passengers were hoodlums, and the police made no move to stop any air voyages.

In the meantime, an elaborate funeral was held for the victim of the assassin, who may have been an avenging gunman of some organized gang or may have been a hoodlum for a personal grudge. Adequate information as to just what emitties or connections with the underworld in a professional way might have brought about left the police without any well defined trail to pursue.

By last midnight 500 hoodlums, desperadoes and suspicious characters were in jail. Lawyers flocked to detective headquarters demanding the release of their clients; but no releases were made.

William Russell, police chief of detectives, was spurred to action not only by the crime itself and their own close friendship for the slain newspaperman, but by a rising flood of hostile public sentiment that gained expression in front page editorials and in statements of civic leaders.

TALK MARTIAL LAW.

There was talk unofficially among business and civic groups of the possibility of martial law to supersede the police and drive the police from the city.

Latest reports are, however, that they will become reconciled completely.

MEMBERS SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE ACTS

PASS RESOLUTION ASSERTING RIGHT PAPERS DENIED IT BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(P)—Police "execution squads," each captained by an officer whose courage in fighting gangsters was attested by notches on his revolver, raked Chicago today for the man who killed Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Tribune reporter.

By last midnight 500 hoodlums, desperadoes and suspicious characters were in jail, each telling when he would return and all showing up as they had promised.

Sholar said he would be here when a case against him was called in court, and the other two said they would return when they had finished with their crops. The sheriff was not molesting them.

A copy of the resolution was transmitted to the president and to Secretary Stimson.

The committee then adjourned its consideration of the London naval ratification.

Chairman Baugh and four other republicans of the committee supported the resolution, which was presented by Senator Black, democrat, Alabama.

The roll call follows:

For—Barah, Johnson, Cal; Moses, New Hampshire; LaFollette, Wisconsin, and Robinson, Indiana, all republicans; Democrats; Swanson, Virginia; Pittman, Nevada; Black and Wagner, New York; farmer Labor—Shipstead, Minnesota.

Striking back, he alleged a whispering campaign had been conducted against him and that accusations aimed at him were either fabrications or "distortions of the real facts," inspired by "partisan or factitious motives."

Before the Senate, he was captured as he had received as president of the Tennessee River Improvement Association

LARGEST ENTRY IN GOLF
HISTORY OF CORSICANA
IS NOTED

They're off!

Ninety-seven of them!

The opening play started in the annual city-county golf tournament at the Corsicana Country Club Thursday and the Country Club will be the scene of some of the hottest matches in years. This is perhaps the largest tournament that has ever been staged here. More than 100 golfers qualified but several withdrew for various reasons.

Charlie Holloway's 78 was the low score and he won the low medal trophy.

The tournament is being played in a championship flight and five others. Members of the tournament committee stated that all players were urged to play their first round matches Thursday and Friday so that the second round competition could be played Saturday and Sunday, the initial encounter on the Basette diamond, and the Sunday game at the Municipal park.

The Basette team has played good ball since the first three weeks of the season and have won seven of the last nine games. The boys from the eastern portion of the county are now one game behind the Magnolia team and the games over the week-end will either see the Basette nine climbing nearer the league leadership or falling farther down the percentage column.

The schedule for the week includes contests Saturday afternoon between the Magnolia Oilers and Basette at Basette; Humble at White's Chapel and American Well at Blooming Grove. Sunday, the schedule calls for contests between the Basette and Magnolia nines at the Municipal park; Blooming Grove at Humble and American Well at White's Chapel.

There seems to be an unusually large number of transfers during the past week from one club to the other in the league and as a result, we could mention two clubs that have been hurt pretty badly by the exchange of players.

Carl Mims, the sensational young pitcher for the Magnolia nine, left Monday morning for his home in California. This leaves the Magnolia nine with only three hurlers, Jimmy Andrews, Adolph Ruth and Gathwright. Skipper Joyner of the Oilers is in the market for several pitchers to replace those lost to transfers during the past week.

Interest in the league seems to be growing and larger crowds are coming for each game played in Corsicana. The best attendance of any club in the league is accorded the Humble nine. This fast stepping aggregation plays to "full houses" on each appearance on the home diamond.

It is a closed season on adding ball players after next Monday afternoon, and managers in the league are looking over the roster with care to see if it is possible to add more strength to the lineup with the addition of new players during the last days of the first half.

An important change in the rules and regulations of the league made at a meeting of the board of directors Tuesday evening was the cutting down of the time required to certify a player from two weeks to one week. This rule will aid team managers in replacing the vacancies caused by players being dropped from the team roster.

COUNTY LEAGUE

Increased activity on the part of the teams in the Navarro County Baseball league is seen for the next two weeks, with a large number of rain-out games to be played before the end of the first half which will be about the first of July. There are several teams in the league that have three or four games to play before that time.

The question of league leadership which has been in doubt for several weeks will be settled for the time at least, when the Magnolia Oilers meet the Basette nine Saturday and Sunday, the initial encounter on the Basette diamond, and the Sunday game at the Municipal park.

The Basette team has played good ball since the first three weeks of the season and have won seven of the last nine games. The boys from the eastern portion of the county are now one game behind the Magnolia team and the games over the week-end will either see the Basette nine climbing nearer the league leadership or falling farther down the percentage column.

A number of other business matters were discussed, including the acceptance of the challenge of the Ennis Southern Pacific baseball team for a contest of July 4th with the team leading the league at that stage of the race.

Managers present were: H. L. Joyner, Magnolia; Paul Rash, American Well; C. C. Turner, representing the Humble nine; Neal Stover, Whites Chapel; W. B. Jennings, Basette.

FOUR GIRLS WILL BE EXPERIMENTED ON FOR COLD CURE

BALTIMORE, June 10.—(AP)—As a group of scientists who for more than two years have sought the cause and cure of the common cold prepared to test cultures of the organism an independent investigator said he had found to cause the malady, four girl graduates of Goucher college are being used as objects of experiment, it was advised today.

The four, given their bachelor of arts degrees last week, agreed to let Dr. J. A. Doull, head of the group financed by the $195,000 John J. Abel fund and his associates, inoculate them with cold organisms and various serums for two weeks.

In return they are to be paid $50, given all the latest magazines to read during their close confinement at a local hospital, and given thorough physical examinations.

The Abel fund was established in 1928 by Frances G. Gorman, president of the chemical foundation, for five years of research into the malady that causes it, it is estimated, a loss of $2,000,000,000 a year to American workers alone.

The Abel fund group prepared to test the cultures of Dr. J. A. F. Pfeiffer of the University of Maryland, an independent research worker who a few days ago announced that after seven years' work he had found the microscopic organism that causes the common cold, and had developed a vaccine for preventive inoculation. Dr. Pfeiffer willingly agreed to let the Abel group test his results.

NINETEEN IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR ON TWO PARTY TICKET

DAN MOODY SCORES JIM FERGUSON; TOM LOVE SEVERELY CROSS-EXAMINED

AUSTIN, June 10.—(P)—Ending the first phase of one of the most tangled political situations in the history of Texas, nineteen candidates for governor—fourteen democrats and five republicans—today were probably certified for the July 26 primaries.

Largely contributing to the mix-up was the unusual number of candidates, who has the largest field the state has ever seen. The bickerings culminated yesterday at the meeting here of the state democratic committee, at which Governor Dan Moody and former Governor James E. Ferguson clashed heatedly, and State Senator Tom B. Love, "anti-Tammany" candidate was mercilessly cross examined by the committee.

The republicans, meanwhile, hoping to profit from the dissension in democratic ranks and repeat their landslide of 1928 when the Lone Star state deserted democratic standards, met peacefully at Houston, certified five candidates for governor and a complete party slate, and expressed exceptionally high hopes for success at the polls.

Moody-Ferguson Clash

The Moody-Ferguson exchange occurred as Governor Moody, for the first time, announced to the state at large that he would not seek reelection again.

Asking the committee to leave his mark on the ballot, Governor Moody took the opportunity to deny that he was sponsoring the candidacy of R. S. Sterling of Houston, Moody's appointee to the state highway commission, and to express the hope that James E. Ferguson, "running under his wife's petticoats," would not be nominated.

Ferguson, barred from running by impeachment, named his wife, Miriam, also a former governor, to fill his office.

White with anger, Ferguson jumped to his feet and dared Moody to get into the race, declaring the governor was afraid. It was the governor's cue to reply angrily.

His face as red as Ferguson's was pale, Moody shook his finger at "Farmer Jim" and said:

"I met you and defeated you; there can be no greater coward than one who betrays public trust and seeks to destroy good government; and I anticipate your ignominious defeat."

Love Cross-Examined

A short time before, Senator Love had been the target. It was his suit before the supreme court that bound the committee from barring as candidates any who failed to support the democratic ticket in 1928. Love was the leader of the "Hoover-democrat" forces that year, and the court ruled that that record could not be held against him.

He was asked whether he would stand by the party this year. Love replied he would so far as his conscience allowed. Pinned to specific instances, the senator stated he would not support Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson; neither would he support P. L. Henry of Houston, wet candidate for senator, and Frank Putnam of Houston, wet candidate for governor.

"And should the democrats in 1922 again nominate Alfred E. Smith or any Tammany supporter for the presidency," he shouted, "I would not vote for him."

Tenacity of the session was reflected somewhat when the candidates of R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman, and C. C. Moody, Fort Worth laundry wagon driver, were discussed. Names of both were submitted by "friends" permissible under the law.

Laundryman Certified

It was suggested that C. C. Moody's candidacy was a joke, and he should not be certified. But one committeeman replied that the committee did not even have the power to reject a republican, precluding the possibility of rejecting Moody, presumably a good democrat. Creager's $100 filing fee was returned to his "friends" at the committeeman's request.

The committee adopted its usual resolution that all white democrats be invited to take part in the primaries, refusing to hear the petition of a negro delegation for recognition. It also declined to act on proposals to hold the prohibition referendum.

H. E. Exum of Amarillo, wealthy rancher, and Dr. George C. Butte of Austin, who ran against Mrs. Ferguson in 1924 and received the largest number of votes ever given a republican candidate for governor, were considered among the leading republican candidates. Both were drafted.

Henry's nomination will be opposed by Senator Morris E. Shepard, so-called father of the 18th amendment. Two republican candidates were in the field.

MANHOOD.

When you refer to an attorney-at-law you don't mean an ambulance-chasing shyster; when you speak of a doctor of medicine you don't mean a quack; when you refer to a minister of the gospel you don't mean a hypocrite using the church as a cloak; and when you speak of a man you don't mean some cowardly member of a wolf pack gang, any more than you would think of a nag when speaking of a horse. When thinking of a man, your mind doesn't picture some derelict following the lines of least resistance, but rather a red-blooded, sound-thinking, progressive human being. When you say man, you think of some up-and-doing living person who is honestly shaping his destiny alone, and not some whining, leaning puppet endeavoring to corral enough other whining puppets to make an augmented chorus. The words man, manly, manhood and man power all have too true a ring to be in any way mistaken.

Suppose five men were cast away on a barren island and all thrown upon their own resources to keep within themselves the breath of life. It would not be two days before one of those men would be chosen by the other four to be their leader. That one man chosen would be expected to guide the five back to civilization. No money is represented in this transaction, but its barren island equivalent is—the sustenance of life. Even in the highest stage of civilization money is nothing but the medium of exchange. On the barren island four men are helping one that he may direct all five back to the life which civilization has made dear to them. This leader was not chosen for his wealth nor his political affiliations, but was selected for his strength of character and his ability to lead.

In civilized life men become leaders through ability and courage—ability to think and courage to do. A real man seeking advancement doesn't call upon some gang to push him along, but strives to do that which he is doing so well that he attracts attention to his ability. His thoughts are always to build and never to tear down. He is striving to do that which may have been done only to do it better, and his confidence in himself is a magnetic power that attracts others to him. Other real men become anxious to engage his services and he climbs under his own power—a stronger personal power than that of any gang.

When you refer to a successful concern, what do you really mean? A successful organization, and a successful organization is one that is made up of real men who are not afraid to think and work. No matter how large that organization may be, it is always ready and ever willing to take in any man who shows the slightest willingness to accept responsibilities and assist the organization to grow. A man interested in his work soon has his pay spoken of as salary and not as wages.

Sometimes when a sink orator is growling about everybody from the general manager down to foreman, just ask yourself the question, "How long would the business continue, meet its pay roll and employ you if the sewer orator were running the business?" A farmer must know his soil to get the most out of it, and a man must know his business to remain in it. If some men were given a farm, they would starve on it, and if

Under this summer sky?"

The birds above you gayly sing,
The wild flowers brightly bloom,
What is this awful, horrid thing
Which seems to seal your doom?

Round you the children romp and play.

The gentle breezes blow,
Sad stranger, tell to me I pray
The burden of your woe."

I do not see the sunbeams dance,

I can't get off the tee.

All day I've shanked my mashie

My puts rimmed every cup,

I'm doing something I should not;
I think it's looking up."

Poor man," I said, "tis we, sure
No help for you appears.
The woes you bear I've tried to

And still my mashie shots I shank
And still I slice the drive,

The miseries of golf endure;
To them there is no end."

THE BRAIN IS SUPREME.

Remember how on Fourth of July night you used to take a little fireworks stick called a sparkler, and whirl it about? You wove circles, figure eights, all sorts of fantastic patterns in the air. And at that time you didn't realize that the figures you were seeing didn't exist at all. It was your eyes that were deceiving you.

Try the same experiment any time with a match or a glowing cigar. You can't trust your eyes. That's why so many of us need glasses.

You can't trust your nose, either. The sweetest, almond smell may come from deadly cyanide of potassium. Many of the poison gases in the world war had a not unpleasant smell—at first.

Your ears are just as unreliable. Just try to whistle a tune in someone's presence. Unless you are a phenomenon, you'll whistle mostly wrong notes, off key. Your whistler's all right. It's your ear that's playing a trick on you.

Your taste, allied to smell, is equally deceptive. The sense of touch is probably the most reliable of all, but it is a poor thing at best. How would you like to sit down blindfolded among enemies, and agree to eat whatever you might be permitted to feel of?

Then, if the five senses are such poor servants, how is it we get along so well with their aid? It is because the brain directing them is more perfect than any one sense. When the eyes fail, the brain orders the touch-sense and the hearing-sense to help out.

No life, no home, no business, can be successfully carried on without a central mind more capable than any of the subordinates. Just as your sense, co-operating, achieve what no single one could do, so in your every activity you will find most success if you, too, learn to co-operate. Know when to subordinate yourself, and be not afraid when it comes your time to command.

Some men were given a business, they would financially die with it. When men realize that a gang anchors them instead of propelling them, then they will rely upon individualism for their advancing power.

The real boy at circus time carries water for the elephants and sees the circus. The gang tries to steal under the tent. The real boy becomes a real man, and what this country needs most is real manhood.

Well, another gentleman who saw Lincoln shot has passed away, and it begins to look as if history would have to remodel Ford's theatre to accommodate the throng.

One of the centers of golf interest this spring has been Sandwich in England. Sandwich is the course, we suppose, where the slice was first brought to perfection.

The American editor of an English language paper in Tokio—evidently an observant reporter by training—says that every Japanese woman is bow-legged.

ANOTHER ENDURANCE TEST

WOMAN, LOVELY WOMAN

IMPOVERISHED BY GOLD

Lady Armstrong, wife of the British Consul General in New York says women are becoming soft, and says it delightedly and approvingly.

During the war, she points out, girls put on men's clothes, did men's work and became more or less manish, and after the war they acquired some of men's habits in the matter of drinking and smoking; but now, she avers, a change is taking place. The smartest and prettiest girls are neither smoking nor drinking, and they have taken to the wearing of strictly feminine things, ribbons and laces and such.

There is evidence in plenty that the lady is right. Indeed, at first glance it would seem that woman, having received from man all the freedom she desired, no longer prizes it. It would, perhaps, be nearer the truth to say that there has come realization that that woman is wisest who uses her freedom in a strictly feminine way.

Whatever the cause, the sure thing is that no man will object to woman's return to frills and furbelows. It may be nothing but the fellow's conceit, but he likes his woman womanly.

TAKING TO THE AIR.

The American public is taking to the air.

Last year 90,000 made scheduled trips on passenger planes—double the 1928 number, and more will ride this year.

The people are becoming air minded. The airplane has ceased to be a novelty and has taken its place along with the railroads, buses and automobiles as a standard mode of transportation.

Little more than a year has passed since the modern passenger transport, planes came into use. They are models of comfort, speed and dependability.

Who can wonder that they are a popular means of travel.

Dandelions being a component of a light wine, we wish the supreme court or somebody would confiscate those on our front lawn.

For the sake of her game, it is hoped the $2,500,000 she made in an oil deal won't cause the lady golf champ to lift her head.

America has few impressive chimes, but that little bell on the cash register suits the national taste better anyway.

Just think, if magazines came out on time, this would be three weeks after July Fourth.

Taking a census is expensive. Why not just gather up the sucker lists?

2. It's Comfortable! Four long semi-elliptic springs; four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; big, roomy Fisher bodies; and Chevrolet's six-cylinder power-flow, with its freedom from annoying vibration—all add to Chevrolet riding comfort.

3. It's Easy to Drive! Chevrolet's improved ball bearing steering mechanism operates without apparent effort. The clutch and four-wheel brakes respond to the slightest pressure. And six-cylinder design means less gear-shifting—easier control.

SHRINERS UNVEIL PEACE MONUMENT TORONTO THURSDAY

REPRESENTATIVES CANADA,
UNITED STATES, MEXICO AND CUBA TAKE PART

TORONTO, June 12.—(P)—An international good will ceremony which representatives of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba had planned as the central feature of the convention of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine today.

At the session of the imperial council yesterday, Esten A. Fletcher, of Rochester, N. Y., was elected imperial Potentate and Cleveland, O., was chosen for next year's gathering. Fletcher, who has been deputy potentate for the past year, succeeds Leo F. Youngworth of Los Angeles, Calif.

An illuminated parade in which thousands of gaily uniformed Nobles marched to the strains of more than 50 bands last night was the climax of a day of colorful exercises.

The program included the unveiling of a peace monument in Oriental Park and speeches by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Premier MacKenzie King of Canada, President Macapdo of Cuba and General Tapia representing Mexico. The speeches will be transmitted over telephone wires and broadcast here.

Walter D. Nichols, Falls, Tex., was elected imperial outer guard of the order over Julius Holl of Tripoli Temple, Milwaukee, Wis.

This was the only contest, all other officers ascending a notch toward the imperial pentente except in the instance of the imperial captaincy of the guard. This post, occupied by the late Clifford Ireland of Peoria, Ill., was filled by election of Andrew S. Hahn of Zephyr Temple, Minneapolis.

A proposal that the imperial council meet triennially instead of annually was referred to a committee which will report on it at the Cleveland conclave in 1931.

SOURCE SALT WATER IN OKLAHOMA FIELD IS BEING SOUGHT

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 12.—(P)—Source of salt water for the Sigma and gas No. 2 school land 67, best producer in the South Oklahoma City field, was sought today. The well in SE NE 36-11-3-W, less than half mile from the Cleveland county line, was completed early Wednesday night, and flowed 340 barrels of oil and 185 barrels of water the first hour. It also had about 12 million cubic feet of gas.

The well is 6758 feet deep, and it could not be learned whether the hole had been drilled through the Simpson horizon.

It is known the structural markers were found about 100 feet lower than in the No. 1 producer, on the north. The No. 4 well, just south of the No. 2, is running very low.

The hole will be plugged probably with hopes of shutting off the brine. This is the first sand producer in the field to show water and tends to be cut belief of geologists that there would be an abrupt crease across the south end of the field, similar to the break encountered on the eastern limits.

Record Producer In Young County

(By The Associated Press) Flowing at the rate of 70 barrels an hour from shallow sand at 691 feet, Dr. Riggs' No. 7 Laramore in the Southwest corner of section 2-274, T. E. & L. survey, north of Newcastle in Young county, came in as a record producer for the county. The well was the third producer to be completed on the Laramore lease in the last few days.

The Texas Company and J. S. Cosden, Inc., have started digging the second another well in their Connell No. 8, 449 feet from the south line of section 2, block B-16, adjoining the southeast corner of the Badger townsite. The test was expected to be the most important in the Ector county field since Texas Company drilled its Connell No. 7.

The Cosden company broke ground at Big Spring today for an addition to its refinery to provide 6,500 barrels additional rated daily.

MYSTIC SHRINERS UNVEIL AND DEDICATE PEACE MONUMENT BEFORE THRONG AT TORONTO

Imperial Potentate Youngworth Delivers Stirring Address for Peace Among Nations and Brotherhood of Man.

Peace Monument Dedicated by Ancient Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at Toronto, Canada.

getically in the creation of a world sentiment, so insistent, so overwhelming, that war will be impossible; and that peace, a universal and lasting peace, will ultimately and definitely prevail.

To this end—the creation of this World Sentiment—the Shrine, have erected this beautiful and inspiring monument.

We appreciate that this demonstration and the erection and dedication of this monument is but a gesture, a symbol; but symbols were the speech of man long before words and letters were devised. At first pictures were drawn to convey thoughts and arbitrary signs were made to stand for many things; so that the "voice of the sign" can be understood by all.

There is something inexhaustible in a symbol; and we earnestly hope that this monument, symbolizing universal peace and good will, may remain long after many localities have died, and that it will be understood and appreciated by posterity.

The bolshevist, communist and all opposed to orderly, democratic government, will find no comfort, refuge or foothold in these activities. The ideas of the ultra-militant, or the ultra-pacifist, are inconsistent with the spirit which we strive to awaken here.

Our only fight is one for God, for country, for humanity; in which all forms of radicalism, materialism and anarchy should be fiercely and promptly stamped out. We constantly uphold those sturdy virtues of manhood and womanhood. We oppose insidious destruction of character—the weakening of the moral fiber of the individual and the destruction of the foundations of society.

We propose that "Peace and Good Will," a true Brotherhood of Man, will be the beacon-light radiating from this place, developing better friendships, clearer understandings among the nations of the earth; and giving added hope, comfort and contentment to the weary traveler from afar—enlightening the world, everlastingly expanding and developing with a clearness and a brightness that "he who runs may read and understand."

A symbol of "Peace on Earth, good will toward all mankind."

Proration Committee Mid-Continent Field Meeting in Tulsa

TULSA, Okla., June 12.—(P)—The Oklahoma proration committee of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association met here today at the call of C. C. Herndon, chairman, to discuss the conservation program for the third quarter of the year, beginning July 1.

Present proration orders expire June 30.

The meeting was preliminary to a formal session at which the committee will approve definite recommendations to be submitted to a mass meeting of operators. Upon approval of the program by the tribe the mineral rights to most of the county.

Crude capacity of the plant will be increased to 16,500 barrels. The cost will approximate $500,000, it was understood.

Humble company's W. H. New, considered the second best producer in Southwest Texas, was bare under control today. The well is seven miles northeast of Luling. The postman was forced to abandon his route past the well temporarily. Nearby houses were ruined by the oil which was carried more than a half mile by the wind.

The tankage was full and the escaping oil was being dammed on Plum creek. The well was reported to produce 20,000 barrels daily under choke with ease.

Operators, the corporation commission will be asked for orders placing the recommendations in effect. Oklahoma's allowable oil production during the three month period will be set at 655,000 barrels daily, if the recommendations of the federal conservation board's committee on petroleum economics are followed.

Defendants in the Seminole county oil land suit, filed in federal court at Muskogee, were served yesterday with official notice of the action. The notices were made returnable June 20. Titles to oil lands worth millions of dollars are gestioned by the suit, which attempts to regain for 3,105 enrolled members of the Seminole Indian tribe the mineral rights to most of the county.

FEDERAL OFFICER MAKES CHARGES IN BOSTON DISASTER

(Continued from Page 1) tes and the situation was then well in hand. Asked if he knew that the coast guard cutter Tampa was only 20 minutes sail away, Captain Brooks replied "it would have made no difference."

Captain Brooks admitted, in response to questioning, that his ship had been moving at a speed of more than 11 knots and that this was not a moderate speed in a fog.

"The log shows you traveled the 21 miles from Finn Ledge to the spot of the collision at the rate of 11.2 knots," Inspector Lyons said. "It's this a moderate speed in a fog?" the captain replied.

He said that he considered six knots slow speed.

"Did any of the members of your crew jump overboard?" the inspector asked.

The captain said they did because of fright.

First Officer Hunley, who said he had joined the ship only this month and in that time had been on one fire drill, testified that he saw no panic whatever either among the passengers or among the crew. He also insisted that the fire was under control in 20 minutes and that the crew did not require the assistance of passengers although several did volunteer.

He said he first saw the tanker 150 feet ahead, although Captain Brooks had estimated 300 feet. He said he saw no running lights or mast lights on the Pintos. The order "full speed astern" was given at 7:03 p. m. Tuesday night according to the chief engineer's log, which placed the collision at about 7:04.

The first officer replied to questions about the radio that he had not seen marines or sailors repairing the ship, and that they may have been. He knew at any rate that the radio was in operation again by 9:08, because he heard the operator sending.

Captain Brooks and the officers had the crew well in hand throughout he testified, and there was no confusion after the collision.

BOSTON, June 12.—(AP)—Rigorous federal investigation of the Fairfax-Pintos disaster, in which fog, flaming oil and a ship which sank within 20 minutes were the background of a sea tragedy taking 46 lives, was under way today.

The list of dead or missing in Tuesday night's fatal collision of a Merchants and Miners passenger laden boat and an oil tanker off Scituate shore, was grim memorial of the tragedy.

Tales of heroism, vivid descriptions of the exploding tanker and the burning oil, differing accounts of the Fairfax, accounts of rescue work and aid for the injured by nurses and volunteers and charges of cowardice against members of the crew in the hours after the crash, were told by passengers on their return to this port.

BOSTON, June 12.—(AP)—An offer of assistance from the coast guard cutter Tampa 20 minutes run away from the scene of the Fairfax disaster was declined by the Fairfax. Commander S. C. Parker of the Tampa reported today.

In his report to coast guard headquarters, Commander Parker revealed that he had intercepted messages between the Merchants and Miners and the Fairfax and Gloucester, Tuesday night, soon after the crash that has claimed 46 lives.

The message told of the necessity of transferring passengers.

Fearing an accident, Commander Parker ordered a query flashed to the Fairfax asking if assistance was needed. The reply that came back, he reported, was "All O. K."

SISTERS DEFENDED
WHAT THEY THOUGHT
BE THEIR RIGHTS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 12.—(P)—Two sisters, who defended with guns what they believed was their right to their home, were in jail today after their arrest by a squad of policemen who stormed the house with tear gas bombs.

The women, Miss Leonore Smyth, 38, and Miss May Smyth, 40, had disregarded a court order to vacate the house in which they lived for many years.

Two constables and an undersheriff attempted yesterday to serve a writ of eviction, granted in litigation over the estate of the women's parents. May Smyth opened fire on them with a revolver. They ran from the place, and reinforced by five police officers, returned.

One of the sisters was captured easily, and the other was brought out after tear gas bombs were thrown into the house. May Smyth was charged with shooting with intent to kill and her sister with assault and battery.

They explained, police said, that they had lived in the house so long they believed they owned it.

CHICAGO HOTEL IN CONTROL SEVERAL
BANDITS FOR HOUR

CHICAGO, June 12.—(P)—The Garfield Arms Hotel, in the hotel district of the West Side, was under the management of four gunmen for nearly an hour today.

The gunmen appeared shortly after midnight, herding half a dozen guests and the night clerk against a wall, and awaited the return of additional guests. One of the quartet stood near the entrance and signaled the approach of each new victim.

Apparently satisfied that the group would afford a satisfactory profit, the robbers searched the victims for valuables and ordered the electric Melville Eberhardt, to open the safe. He protested, he did not know the combination.

The manager, Thomas D. Lawlor, was routed from his apartment in his night clothes and compelled to open the safe, which yielded $400 cash. Locking the victims into the hotel office, the quartet escaped.

CORSICANA MAY GET BRANCH OFFICE OF TEXAS COTTON BODY

MATTER DISCUSSED THURSDAY MORNING MEETING; WINTERS MAIN SPEAKER

Establishment of a branch office of the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association in Corsicana as a part of the set-up in District Three with headquarters at Waco was presented to a representative group of citizens at the chamber of commerce Thursday. Later in the day a committee was named to investigate the matter further and make recommendations to the board of directors of the chamber.

Announcement was made that a mass meeting of representatives from all parts of the county would be held at the courthouse next Monday night.

L. E. Winters, district organizer for the Waco division, was the principal speaker at the Thursday meeting, and briefly outlined the program of the Federal farm board. He declared that the board realized in the beginning that they could not get along with the millions of farmers, and they immediately divided them according to commodities, and then subdivided the territory in each commodity.

Seven districts are included in the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, and the district in which Navarro county is located has headquarters in Waco. Six or seven branch offices will be established in the district which included 72 counties, among the offices are Waco, Calvert, Temple, one in Williamson county and perhaps one in Corsicana, Hillsboro and Waxahachie.

Number to Be Limited.
He declared that the number would be limited because each required a licensed grader and classifier, and that the staff would be hard to obtain. Sub-agents will also be stationed at large cotton centers where the season's volume is not sufficient to justify the establishment of a branch office.

Winters stated that the board believed that branch office was worth something to a community, and that they should take a part in its activities. To secure a branch office, a town must underwrite the office for the first year, although provisions may be made by which the office may be self-sustaining and the underwriters occupying only a formal position.

He stated that the chamber of commerce was asked to underwrite the branch, and if it desired it could in turn have the sum underwritten by farmers or business men.

Workings Explained.

He then briefly explained the workings of the association and the sale of cotton in the seasonal and optional classes. He also stated that following the mass meeting at the courthouse Monday night that a meeting would be held in Waco on June 20 at which representatives from the various communities would form the district council to direct the work. Following the council organization, an education campaign will be conducted, which will be followed by a membership campaign. The membership fee is $10.

It was agreed in the discussion following the talk, that the matter should be studied in greater detail and then recommendations presented to the board of directors of the chamber. A committee was to be named by the chamber president during the afternoon.

Among those attending the meeting were F. N. Dene, J. N. Edens, R. L. Hamilton, J. M. Dyer, Sr., C. C. Roberts, Ted Ferguson, Mrs. J. W. David, Louis David, C. L. Lester, J. E. Butler, W. P. Brown, Calvin Pigg, W. O. Harwell, I. N. Cerr, J. B. Fortson, J. T. Fortson, Culter Dunn, Wade Smith, and others.

Towerman Saves Two Trains Just Before He Died

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., June 12.—(P)—A railroad telegrapher who set the "stop" signals on his block before he dropped dead in his tower, today was credited with averting a collision of two trains.

Stricken with a heart attack, Evan Protheroe, operator at the Mount Carmel junction tower of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, managed to flash the fact that he was ill to the train dispatcher at Shamokin. The latter quickly sent back word to set the signals.

Several minutes later a freight train pulled to a stop at the tower in response to the signal and the crew found Protheroe dead in the tower. Another freight pulled up a few minutes later and railroad men said had the signals not been set the two trains would have collided.

ONE CHINESE REBEL LEADER OFFERS LAY DOWN ARMS FOR PAY

Shie offering to surrender and expressing willingness to attack the rebellious troops of the Shansi government.

Feng was said to have demanded in return that the nationalist government pay $3,000,000 for the reorganization of the Shansi government, people of which he is leader. Feng's plan was said to divide the army into fifteen divisions and to reserve the provinces of Chihli, Shansi and Honan as their garrison areas.

Chiang Kai-Shek was stated to have refused the offer, demanding that Feng first attack Shansi as a demonstration of his sincerity.

In the midst of the vigorous drive which Yen Hsi-Shan government of Shansi has been making on Chiang Kai-Shek, chief of the Nationalist government, report that Feng Yu Hsiang was planning to turn against Yen, his erstwhile partner in the revolt against Chiang, suggest the possibility of a new lineup in the already complicated Chinese situation.

Feng has repeatedly played a line ahnd in the numerous developments in China during the past ten years, now siding with one group and again with the other, each time using his position as his chief weapon. Feng came with the nationalist government several years ago, but then quarreled with Chiang Kai-Shek and went over to Yen Hsi-Shan.

CORSICANA YOUTH REPORTED MISSING BY FAMILY THURSDAY

A. E. Jones came to the Daily Sun office Thursday afternoon and stated that his brother-in-law, Arthur Turner, aged 17, had disappeared early Thursday morning and no trace had been found of his whereabouts Thursday afternoon. It is feared by the family that he has either met with an accident or foul play.

The lad left the home, 1115 North Thirteenth street, Thursday morning at 5:15 o'clock for his job at the Weaver Dairy. He was riding a bicycle. He never appeared at the Weaver Dairy for work, Mr. Jones said.

According to the description given by Mr. Jones of the missing lad, he is five feet eight inches tall, has black curly hair and weighs about 150 pounds.

Both city and county officers were notified by Mr. Jones, he said.

Anyone knowing anything concerning the whereabouts of the missing boy are asked to get in touch with the family at 1115 North Thirteenth street, or either the city or county officers.

LEGGLE SAYS COTTON STABILIZATION BODY READY IN FEW DAYS

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(P)—Chairman Legge of the federal farm board said today the cotton stabilization corporation would "be ready to do business in a few days."

Set up as an emergency measure to handle the 1929 surplus, the new corporation, Legge said, will immediately take over the 1,000,000 to 1,200,000 bales now in the hands of the cooperatives.

The corporation, he said, has not yet asked for a specific amount of money from the board. "I would estimate that at least $50,000,000 will be required," he said.

Legge said it was his opinion that the stabilization corporation would take no particular action to meet today's severe slump in prices on the New York exchange. Few farmers have any cotton to sell now, he said.

Asserting the board had no very definite reports on the condition of the 1930 crop, he estimated this year's carry over would range from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bales more than the surplus a year ago. He said such a situation was not nearly as bad as it has been in some years.

WICHITA FALLS MAN RUNS AMUCK; THREE DEATHS MAY RESULT

WICHITA FALLS, June 12.—(P)—Mrs. Maudie Dyer, about 30, was fatally shot, and her sister, Mrs. Dena Childress, was wounded, perhaps fatally, at Mrs. Childress' home here today. Joe Dyer, the estranged husband of Mrs. Dyer, was found fatally shot soon afterwards.

The shooting, according to John Prince, a cousin of the women, who was in an adjoining room, occurred almost immediately after Dyer entered the home. Prince said he heard no shots before the shots.

Dyer was found beside an irrigation ditch about a quarter of a mile from the place. A revolver was lying nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyer had been separated about four months and Dyer had been working in and near Abilene. Dyer was shot through the head and died about two hours later. He was never conscious after he was found.

Mrs. Childress was shot in the head and forearm.

CALVERT AWARDED FIRST BRANCH TEXAS COTTON CO-OP BODY

MASS MEETING TO BE HELD IN CORSICANA MONDAY NIGHT DISCUSS MATTER

WACO, June 11.—(Spl.)—Calvert, for almost a century as the center of rich Brazos Valley cotton plantations, has been awarded the first branch office of the Waco district, it was announced Tuesday by district headquarters of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association at Waco. Expenses of maintaining the office at Calvert have been underwritten by a large group of cotton growers and business men of that city and community.

The Calvert office will be one of a half dozen that will be allotted to important cotton points in the 27 counties of Central Texas which constitute the associations district No. 1.

Applications from a dozen other towns are pending action.

It was also announced at district headquarters that the first general meeting for the district will be held at high school gymnasium in Waco Friday afternoon, June 20, at 2 o'clock. At that time the district council will be formed and an intensive campaign begun to enroll members under the association's new liberalized marketing agreement and to arrange for marketing service by which members may sell through the American Cotton Cooperative Association.

Legge said it was his opinion that the stabilization corporation would take no particular action to meet today's severe slump in prices on the New York exchange. Few farmers have any cotton to sell now, he said.

Asserting the board had no very definite reports on the condition of the 1930 crop, he estimated this year's carry over would range from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bales more than the surplus a year ago. He said such a situation was not nearly as bad as it has been in some years.

Falls county will rally to hear the co-operative program in a meeting at the courthouse in Martin Wednesday night, under auspices of the El-Stone Empire Association.

Judge Tom S. Henderson, Sr., was announced as chairman of the organization campaign of Martin county. In accepting the position, Judge Henderson made a statement calling upon every citizen to give "full support to this greatest of all movements to improve agricultural conditions."

Expect Large Attendance.

The agricultural clubs of Williamson county and of San Marcos have advised headquarters that they expect a very large attendance at meetings which they have called to discuss the cotton co-operative program. The Williamson county meeting will be at Hutto Friday night with Owen Sherrill, Georgetown banker, presiding. The San Marcos club, meeting at the Wimberly pleasure resort, will entertain guests from Hutto and surrounding counties with a barbecue and fish fry next Tuesday night.

Business men's organizations are reported diligently aiding farmers in preparing for other meetings preliminary to the district meeting at Waco.

WHAT A TRAVELER SAW FROM A HEIGHT AMIDST THE HILLS

Standing on a Jerusalem Housetop, He Surveyed Calvary and the Attendant Sites—Remarkable Integration of Passion Scenes—Diverse Types at the Cross.

As I stood at sunrise on Easter morning a few years ago, on a housetop in old Jerusalem, overlooking the northern wall, I got an entirely new idea of the integration of the events of those last sublime days in the life of Jesus. It was a small stage upon which the supreme drama was enacted. From my point of vantage I had in clear, near view all the sites of that last week. Yonder to the east, rose the Mount of Olives, scene of the Triumphal Entry, of the Agony in Gethsemane, of the Ascension. To the southward lay the Temple Area, and the Tower of Antonia, Pilate's court, and the Judgment Hall of Caiphas, and the Via Dolorosa. So near, on the north, as to be within the sound of my voice—or to the westward, if the Church of the Holy Sepulchre be the true site—rose a little eminence, once called Calvary, and hard by there had been a new tomb in a garden.

All, all was there, so unified, so close together, that a fresh idea of the interrelation of all the incidents of the Tragedy swept over me. A child could easily walk, in a short time, the distance that separated the events which were remotest from each other geographically. This geographical convergence seemed to symbolize the close gathering up into a small space-compass of an experience that has since been filling the while earth. Naturally, it made the Stoic seem cold and rigid. From all the world pilgrims had come for the day of which I write, that they might get a more personal experience of the slain and risen Saviour of the World.

Diverse Actors in the Scene.

As one considers the place-com

paness of the phases of the Tragedy of all time, the actors thereof seem a new to be closely grouped and symbolic.

About the three crude crosses on the knoll stood Rome's soldiers embodying the imperial might and pride, grim, impersonal, heedless. "I'll match you for the seamless robe," cried one callous soldier to another, as the lot of the victims was being apportioned.

Ecclesiasticism, religious pride, and bigotry, jealousy and hatred, and the afronted and resentful power of vested interests and trade, were personified by the intriguing Jewish priests and Pharisees, standing by to the end to see the fall of their temple.

Felt curiosity of the carefree crowd, fickle, shallow, avid for a show and eager for the titillation of their senses by the grisly sight of a crucifixion, drew the largest group. Ah, the "don't careness" of life, which bulks so large in every tragedy!

Woman's loyalty and love, disdaining the terrors of priestly reprobation, drew closest to the foot of the cross, sharing every tremor of the sufferer, pressing and standing close to the end. Thank God for the friendships that never fail.

Near, too, was one of the Twelve, the most sensitive of all, the gentle John, ready for a last word from his dearest Friend, and for any commission; and etching the scene upon his artist-memory.

On the two crosses beside the central Victim hung representatives of crass crime and mortal sinning, that underworld which runs afloat in the atmosphere of mankind, but so different in personalities, one filled with coarse railing to the end, the other sensing spiritual values.

So it seems as if all the types and passions of mankind had a share in the Day of days—hate and fear and revenge and undiscreting commonplaceness and love and loyalty and pity and penitence: the great descending to meanness and foulness; the lowly rising to heights of nobility; and the multitude coming for naught except the passing hour's sensation.

Gentleman in Extremity.

That central Figure on the cross has drawn the awed and wondering and worshipful gaze of myriads of millions of reverent souls throughout the centuries since. Poets and painters and preachers have exercised their uttermost powers in attempting to portray the spectacle. As I stood so near the spot of the actual Transaction, on the Easter morning, there was in my soul with uncanny spirits of man who in imagination have gone thither to behold and to marvel and to adore. This upreared cross, so crudely and carelessly fashioned by unthinking Roman

FOUR SCHOOLS OF COUNTY ORDERED BE CONSOLIDATED

At a meeting of the Navarro county school board Monday, four rural schools were consolidated into one new high school district, according to an announcement out of the office of Andrew G. Steele, county superintendent. Tuesday morning, Purdon school district No. 73, Bell's Point school district No. 51, Warren's Shapell school district No. 50, and Jester school district No. 90, were consolidated into the Purdon Rural High School district No. 51.

It has not been stated whether the districts will be consolidated for all school purposes or whether only for high school purposes. No announcement has been made whether a new school building or buildings will be constructed.

Trustees for the new school district are L. A. Alderman, J. T. Peeler, N. J. Gaddy, A. E. Bittner, E. F. Brown, P. B. Davis and W. E. Castles.

Wise men who formulate theologies and philosophies, perceive somewhat of the divine and eternal significance of the fact that Christ on the cross, and of His words, "But may the plainer folk be permitted to see in it a perfect gentleman?" In the midst of His indescribable throes, He had a courageous word of hope for the malefactor alongside of Him—and no harsh word for the reviling other one of uncomprehending spirit. He took thought for the future of the mother who bore Him; and gave a holy commission, and evidence of affectionate confidence, to His best friend. And concerning the gloating foes who had malignantly had nailed Him to the cross, He cried, in the compassion of perfect magnanimity, "Father, forgive them! They know not what they do." In the light of the cross, we surely must conclude that there are no possible circumstances in life wherein a man may fail to be a perfect gentleman.

What Makes a Cross?

Two cross purposes make a cross. Wherever man's will runs athwart God's will, there we are face to face with the cross. Spiritually interpreted, Calvary's wood was made by the shining, upright pillar of God's eternal and unshakable love; traversed by the cross-beam of mortal man's wilfulness. These two met that day, outside the city wall, in a mystery at which the angels were to marvel. There they joined and made "at-one-ment," a reconciliation of God with man. Nobody has ever fathomed the full meaning of the cross of Christ. "Great is the mystery of godliness." It is an old Marian fashion—doubtless far older than that—to build doors with the panelling in the form of the cross; for the cross is the door to life. It is love's supreme symbol for it personifies life in its highest expression, which is sacrifice. Penitents know the cross as the sign of forgiveness and of hope. Godlike souls see it as the emblem of conquest in the spiritual realm.

WICKERSHAM SAYS NO ATTEMPT MADE EDUCATE PEOPLE

BOSTON, June 10.—(P)—Prohibition enforcement agencies could find "cogent suggestion" in the experience of England and Wales of better methods of attaining the object of the 18th amendment than those pursued during the last decade, in the opinion of George W. Wickersham, chairman of the national commission on law observance and enforcement.

A general process of education "into the evils of excessive drinking and the advantages of other forms of recreation" must be undertaken, he said. He said that with marked decreases in drunkenness in those countries, he said here last night in addressing 5,000 social workers attending the 57th national conference of social work.

Quoting British authorities, he cited other factors, including improved housing conditions and cultural advantages, certain restrictions in hours of sale of liquors and higher liquor cost.

In an address devoted in large part to the problem of law enforcement, Mr. Wickersham spoke specifically of the national prohibition law.

Attemt at Education.

He declared that no attempts at education as to its merits have been made since its enforcement, temerity and carelessness have been abandoned and dependence for enforcement has been placed upon the power of the government to impose fines and imprisonment.

"No process of education or attempted education of the public to the value of prohibition to accomplish the maximum of temperance in the community was attempted during this period," he commented. "The problem of law enforcement is a matter of education in law observance. Preventive measures rather than penalties should be emphasized. Sympathy and helpfulness, rather than the rod, the cell and the stone pile, should be tried in order that iniquity be reduced to the lowest point."

"I HAVE taken Black-Draught all my life, whenever in need of a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas. "My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated."

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black-Draught, I got all right. I have given Black-Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

BIG PRICE PLACED ON HEAD KILLER CHICAGO REPORTER

ALL CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION RESOURCES OF WINDY CITY BUSY ON CASE

CHICAGO, June 11.—(AP)—Under fire of city council criticism, Chief of Detectives John Stege launched an intensive police drive late today which he promised would cleanse Chicago of gangsters within six hours.

Chief Stege informed the aldermanic police committee he had organized a special detail of his aces whose experience in gang battles qualified them to guarantee immediate results.

Two men wanted for investigation in the killing of "ake" Lingle, star gangland reporter of the Chicago Tribune, were in custody awaiting examination at the detective bureau. Sam Hunt, dragged from a gang automobile a week ago, surrendered with his attorney and denied implication in the Lingle shooting but was held for a show up before witnesses to the slaying. Ralph Pierce appeared with Hunt, and was locked up for investigation.

CHICAGO, June 11.—(AP)—A reward of $55,000 hangs today over the head of the man who murdered Alfred (Jake) Lingle.

The Tribune, for whom he worked as a reporter, was first, offering $25,000 for information leading to arrest and conviction of the killer. Its morning competitor, the Herald and Examiner, today had added another $25,000, and the Evening Post has offered $10,000.

The slaying of Lingle Monday afternoon in the Illinois Central subway at Randolph street has been followed by such concerted public and official indignation as has seldom been provoked here in recent years.

Shying Stirs Chicago

The murder, as Coroner Herman H. Budenbender pointed out, demands solution because it is the first in which gangland has dared to shoot down in its sensational manner a respected citizen. Invariably before it has been gangland that has been guartered. The public has refused to become exercised over such murders. The public attitude has been, as the coroner said, that a gangster slain is good riddance.

But now the authorities have for solution the murder of man widely known and respected, shot down without warning in the presence of several hundred persons within a block of the busy loop at the peak of the day.

The hunt for the killer, apparently from the switch attorney office, police headquarters, the coroner's office and independent agencies, is being pushed with deadly earnestness. Results of search are being kept secret—an unusual procedure in Chicago crime investigation. Clues are being guarded so as no word of the progress of the inquiry will get to the inquest is adjourned.

The inquest yesterday was adjourned after three witnesses had testified. Coroner Budenbender said he had important information which he did not want revealed at this time. Pat Roche, ace of the state attorney's staff, was hunting a left handed gunner who he believes is the man who killed Lingle. He would not name him, but he emphasized the fact that the glove discarded by the slayer was for the left hand.

Police Commissioner William Russell, close friend of Lingle's for many years, does not hold with the theory that the murder was a gangland killing and plot. Both he and his chief of detectives, John Stege, are conducting their investigation in the belief that a personal grudge not connected with gang activities motivated the murder. They do not believe that Lingle was assassinated for "knowing too much" about Chicago gang plots and plotters.

The resources of the "secret six" committee, organized some time ago to drive organized crime from Chicago, were pledged to the murder inquiry by Col. Robert E. Rainsford, president of the association of commerce. The coroner's office was making use of its elaborate scientific resources for criminal hunting, including the crime laboratory of Northwestern university.

DEFINITE HOUR
SET FOR VOTING ON TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—The tariff bill will be put to its ultimate test in the senate, the long awaited final vote, at two o'clock on Friday.

If it is approved, and there are indications it will, a margin of one or two votes will settle the question, it will be brought up in the house on Saturday and a final roll call taken there.

Thus, allowing for the time taken by necessary congressional formalities after passage, the measure, unless defeated in the senate, is expected to reach President Hoover some time on Monday.

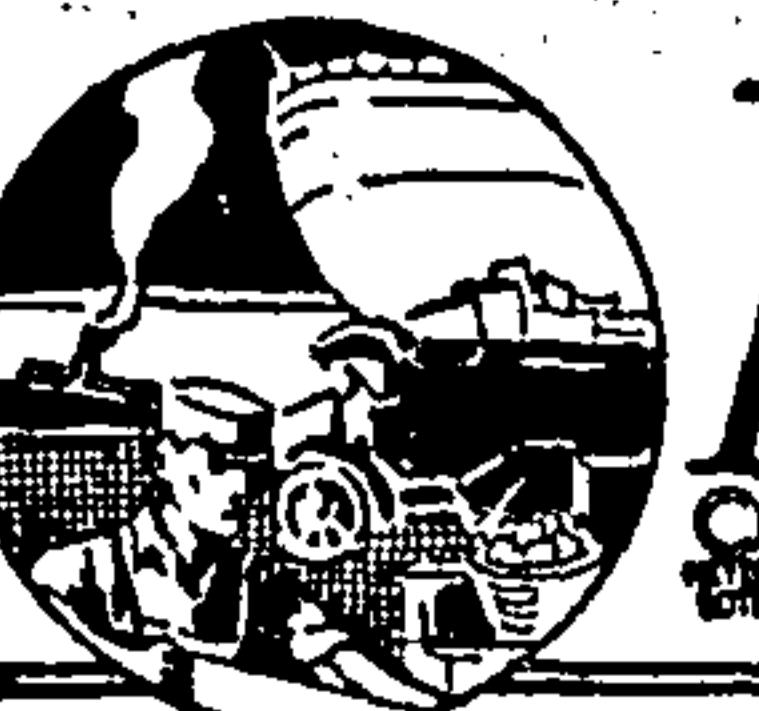

After considerable argument, a unanimous consent agreement was reached in the senate late yesterday for the Friday voting hour. An earlier time was proposed by a half dozen members who said they had engagements which would prevent their attendance today or tomorrow. Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, an opponent of the measure, said it was appropriate the vote should come on "Friday the thirteenth."

A preliminary test will come just before the roll call in a vote on a motion by Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, to hold off the bill to a conference. In making his motion, he contended the conferees had disregarded all scientific basis in arriving at the duty on cheese.

Cream Supper

There will be a cream supper at the Eleventh Avenue Baptist Church Friday night, June 13th, for benefit of the church. Everybody invited.

FLAMING SEAS OF OIL ADD HORROR MARINE TRAGEDY

EXPLOSION WRECKS TANKER IN FEW MINUTES; PASSENGERS JUMP OVERBOARD.

BOSTON, June 11.—(AP)—A toll of dead which mounted to 45 this afternoon was left by explosions of flaming oil which sprayed from the Fall River oil tanker Pinthus after she was in collision with the coastwise liner Fairfax in heavy fog off Scituate last night.

The Pinthus went down in 20 minutes after the crash, taking with her the 19 members of her crew to death by fire and water. The Fairfax, new Merchant Marine liner bound for Norfolk and Baltimore with a hundred crew of 71 passengers, was left a flaming inferno.

In the horror that ensued 15 members of the Fairfax crew and 10 passengers jumped into the sea to escape the fire aboard, but found death in the flaming oil covered waters instead. A score or more of passengers were burned aboard the boat, one of them died on the way to port and five were believed dying in hospital here.

They and the other survivors were brought to Boston today by the Gloucester, another Merchant Marine liner.

BOSTON, June 11.—(AP)—Flaming oil, spouting from the depths of a stricken oil tanker, believed to have been the Pinthus of Fall River, today was thought to have claimed the lives of more than forty persons aboard that ship and the passenger liner Fairfax outbound from Boston, when they collided in Massachusetts Bay last night.

So suddenly did the tragedy occur that not a single person on the tanker was believed to have escaped the fog enshrouded inferno which followed the impact.

At least a score of the Fairfax's passengers and crew were unaccounted for while the Pinthus carried a crew of 19.

Aboard the big passenger liner scenes of wildest confusion succeeded the shock of the crash. Men and women, believing ship doomed, hurled themselves into the sea only to perish amidst the raging oil which poured from the tanker in all directions. Others were burned in their berths by the white heat of the fire which seared the port side of the ship.

The flames which swept both craft melted their radio antennae and temporarily ended possibility of summoning aid. The tanker, after from stem to stern, settled slowly into the water plunging from sight twenty minutes after the crash.

The arrival of the Fairfax for Norfolk, Va., had aboard 140 passengers, almost evenly divided between passengers and crew. The Pinthus left Fall River early yesterday for Checara and Portland, Me., laden with 12,000 barrels of gasoline. The spot where the disaster occurred, off Scituate, was where the Shell Eastern Petroleum corporation, which had the Pinthus under charter, calculated she would have been at approximately the time of the collision.

Official of the corporation said this afternoon that they had tried unsuccessfully throughout the night and morning to reach the ship by radio.

The first and for hours the only news to reach the outside world of what had occurred in the fog came in a message from Captain Archibald Brooks, commander of the Fairfax, who asked that ambulance and medical aid be held in readiness here for the arrival of the first survivors.

Twenty-three Missing.

Later it became known that 11 passengers had either perished or were unaccounted for and that 12 members of the crew were missing, of the latter, a majority was reported to have been negro stewards, who leaped to death in the flaming oil-coated water in the first moments after the impact.

One of the dead, a woman passenger, succumbed to burns while being brought ashore a sister ship of the Fairfax, the Gloucester, which removed the passengers. Beside the dead and missing there were seven passengers taken to the Carney hospital at South Boston where the names of five were placed on the danger list.

After the initial excitement aboard the Fairfax had subsided officers turned energetically to quieting and rendering first aid to the injured. Nurses, of whom there were several among the passengers, assisted by other women volunteers, worked feverishly in relieving those burned. Many of the latter had been spryed by the burning gasoline and were in agony.

Rescue Efforts Fruitless.

As soon as it was seen that the flames which enveloped the port-side and forepart of the liner were under control boats were manned and began fruitless search of the waters.

The presence aboard the Fairfax of nearly a dozen naval officers, sailors and marines did much to save the ship. The service men, among the coolest of the passengers, dashed into cabins to rescue the burned, broke down doors where those inside were unable to help themselves and add the ship's crew in preserving order.

The transfer of the passengers to the Gloucester was accomplished without incident and the latter then turned about and made for this port as rapidly as conditions would permit.

It was not until nearly noon, however, that the Fairfax limped back into her berth, a gaping hole in her side, six feet wide, in the water line, and her port-side and waterline blackened by the fire.

Ten minutes after she was tied up, Oscar G. Haines, of the United States steamship inspection service, together with Captain Charles M. Lyons, local inspector, and officials of the company boarded the ship. Members of the crew were not allowed to talk newspapermen until after they had been interrogated by the officials.

Cotton in Eastern Part of County Is Small for Season

KERENS, June 12.—(Spl.)—The cotton prospect of this part of Navarro county is not look so good in the former years for this time of the year on account of the size of the plant. There is no cotton around Keren as much as knee high. Farmers say cotton at this time of the year ought to be at least twice the size of the plant at present, and say in former years blooms and small bolls have formed by the middle of June.

The crop is of weeds and grass but the cotton does not seem to be growing as it ought to from the point of the farms.

Corn will need rain in a short while. Oats have been cut and sorghum will be ready to cut in about two weeks.
